A message from our Wing Commander:

Cannon Air Commandos: After my first few days in command, I wanted to thank you all again for your tremendous dedication to our mission and to our Air Commando family. As I stated last week, while we face the challenges of a dynamic and complex global arena, our posture toward those opportunities is straightforward.

We will be the best in what we do and who we are, so that this wing may make the most of us. In doing so we will stay focused on our command's priorities, and on the tenets of our wing's mission--executing specialized airpower and building a premier Air Force installation.

I am honored to lead and be a part of this outstanding wing; your needs are my own, and I am here to serve you just as you are here to serve the Air Force and the Nation.

I look forward to working with you as we embody that commitment. Continue to exemplify excellence Air Commandos, any time, any place.

New 27th SOCS Facility : The 27th SOCS has completed its move to Building 777 (new two-story building across the street from Base Theater). Effective Feb. 24, all customer service functions (SIPR Tokens, computer reimaging, account reset, etc.) are now collocated in Bldg. 777. We look forward to seeing you in our new facility.
